

THE VOICE OF FREEDOM

Issue 137

www.bnp.org.uk

70p or £1 donation

The Official Newspaper

BRITISH NATIONAL PARTY

T 0844 809 4581 E enquiries@bnp.org.uk

BNP say: Remove the threat to the British people

Hate preachers

60 sec

inter

The road to Damascus

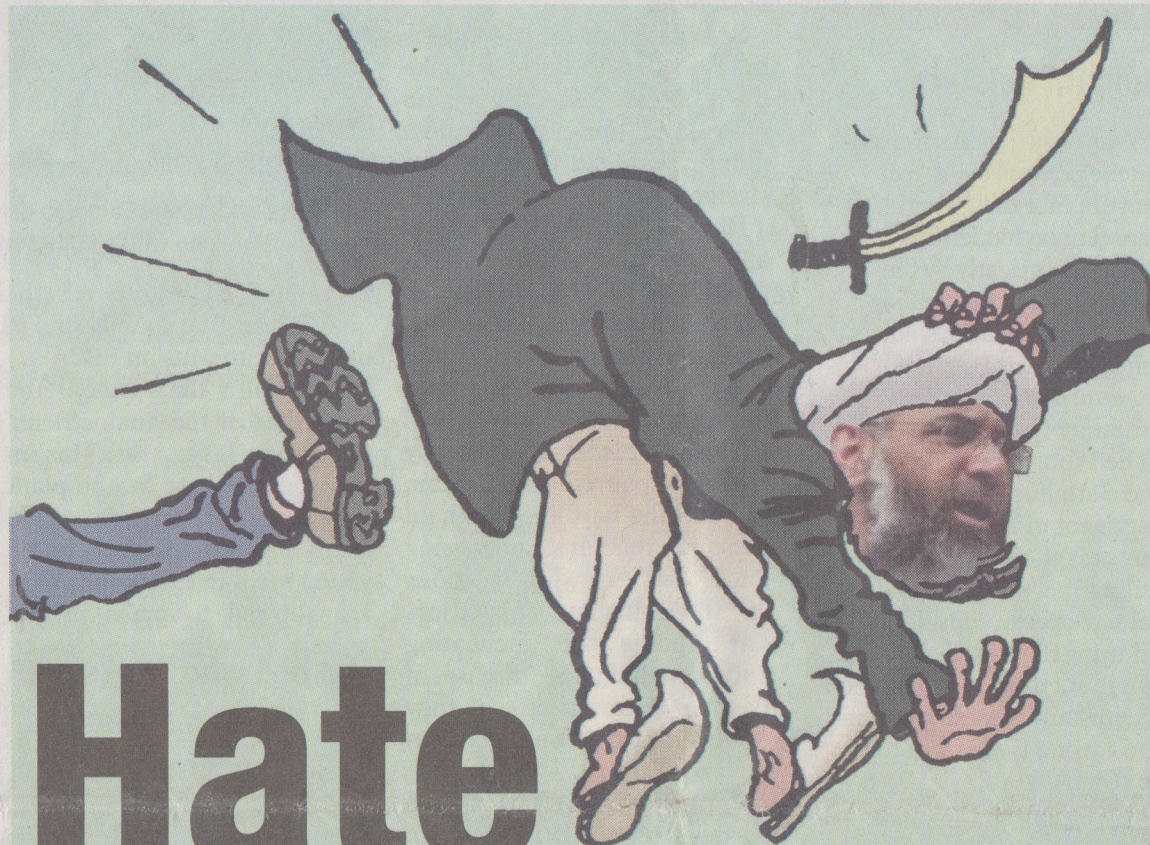

P5

Election fraud Labour in the dock

P8

BNP say: Remove the threat to the British people

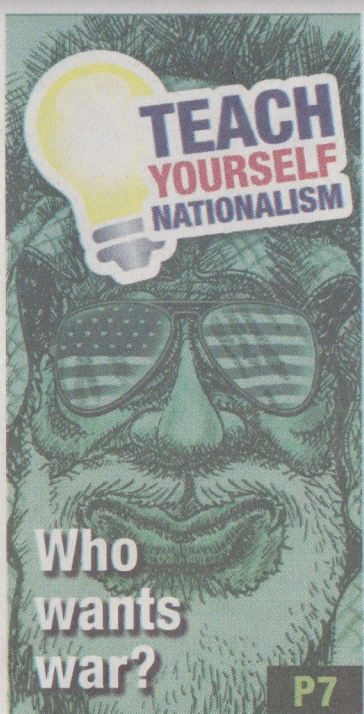

Hate preachers out now

Everyone wants action – so the BNP is leading the way to demand action. It's time to kick the Islamist preachers of slaughter of Drummer Lee Rigby wasn't only 'allegedly' done by men inspired by the anti-British rants of radical Imams preaching hatred on then praised the murderers. And what did David Cameron and the rest of the useless ConDem government do? Nothing!

The road to Damascus

P5

Election fraud Labour in the dock

P8

Veterans attend

60

Dorothy
Brooke

P8

Hate preachers out now

Everyone wants action – so the BNP is leading the way to demand action. It's time to kick the Islamist preachers of hate out of Britain!

The shocking ritual

slaughter of Drummer Lee Rigby wasn't only 'allegedly' done by men inspired by the anti-British rants of radical Imams preaching hatred on benefits. To add insult to injury, these crazed bigots then praised the murderers.

And what did David Cameron and the rest of the useless ConDem government do? Nothing! They dither over the possible

Continued on page 2

The Royal Courts of Justice

Election fraud Labour in the dock

P8

Veterans attend
anti-Islamisation
demo

P10

Spread the word

Become a BNP Online Activist today

Spread the BNP message of Hope far and wide without even leaving your chair. Find out more inside...

P8

View from the top

Editor
Nick Griffin MEP

Follow Nick on Twitter
www.twitter.com/nickgriffinmep

Free membership for redundant soldiers

The political elite have always been far too ready to send young men (and now even women) off to fight and die in wars that have nothing to do with Britain but everything to do with the power of vested interest groups.

But in the past the old men who declared war at least generally tried to ensure that the young men they sent to risk their lives were properly equipped. While returning soldiers at the end of every war faced cuts and neglect, the run-up to the next one would see a big increase in defence spending as the military were expanded and re-equipped.

Not anymore, because victims come home in boxes, but the political elite's real contempt for their working class cannon fodder was shown most clearly by the announcement that among nearly 5,000 serving soldiers being sent their P45s are the comrades of murdered Drummer Lee Rigby.

The Woolwich victim's 2nd Battalion of The Royal Regiment of Fusiliers has a long and glorious history, but neither that nor the moral claim to special consideration following the loss of one of its own in such uniquely terrible circumstances could save the 600-strong force from the ConDem axe.

Small wonder that, in a shocking development that the controlled media are keeping quiet, morale is so low that nearly every regiment in the British Army now has dozens of young soldiers on suicide watch.

Protect British people – deport the hate preachers deportation of hate-preacher Abu Qatada to Jordan, where he is wanted for terrorism.

Continued from page 1

In the case of Anjem Choudary, they simply wring their hands and tell us “nothing can be done, because he was born here.”

So what? If a cat has kittens in a stable it doesn't make them horses. Choudary has no place in Britain. This Islamist monster should be given a straightforward choice:

He can claim to be British, and face trial and the death penalty for treason. Or he must admit to having no place in our tolerant, secular, democratic country and be shipped out on the first plane to Saudi Arabia.

After all, it's Saudi oil money that has poured into Britain to build the hardline Wahhabi mosques that are radicalising huge and growing sections of the Muslim population. The Saudis are incubating and spreading the disease of Islamic extremism, so they can't complain if we send them their own germs.

But politicians of all the old parties are collaborating with the Saudi and other Gulf state sovereign wealth funds that are buying up Britain's remaining national assets, so they won't take effective action against the Wahhabi sponsors of Islamic

The BNP demand that Cameron deport the vile Anjem Choudary immediately along with all other Islamist Hate Preachers

the other way and avoids the issue, because he doesn't want to upset the pro-Muslim BBC.

And all the time, the cowardice of the 'mainstream' politicians leaves the Muslim preachers of hate free to plant the seeds of terrorism and murder in the minds of more young men. Every sermon they are allowed to make primes

No one who thinks like that has a place in modern Britain

another potential human timebomb in our midst.

How many more must die before this rotten, cowardly excuse for a government takes action to turn off the Islamists' conveyor belt to terror? For every one that happens, the hands of Cameron and all the rest will be covered with the blood of even more innocents.

So it is left to the British National Party to state the obvious and propose the only practical answer:

Deport not just Abu Qatada, but also Anjem Choudary, and every sympathiser for their message of hate and violence towards the 'kuffar' – as they call all Unbelievers and even genuinely moderate Muslims. It doesn't matter where they were born, no one who thinks like that has a place in modern Britain!

That's why this summer will see our activist teams out on high streets and doorsteps all over the country with Nick Griffin's MEP petition, giving people the chance to tell

Editor
Nick Griffin MEP

Follow Nick on Twitter
www.twitter.com/nickgriffinmep

Free membership for redundant soldiers

The political elite have always been far too ready to send young men (and now even women) off to fight and die in wars that have nothing to do with Britain but everything to do with the power of vested interest groups.

But in the past the old men who declared war at least generally tried to ensure that the young men they sent to risk their lives were properly equipped. While returning soldiers at the end of every war faced cuts and neglect, the run-up to the next one would see a big increase in defence spending as the military were expanded and re-equipped.

Not anymore, because Cameron & Co are even worse. Even as they plot and scheme to drag Britain into ever more futile and counter-productive conflicts, the Westminster warmongers are cutting the army by nearly a quarter.

By the time the latest round of cuts go through, the British army will be smaller than at any time since before the Napoleonic Wars.

victims come home in boxes, but the political elite's real contempt for their working class cannon fodder was shown most clearly by the announcement that among nearly 5,000 serving soldiers being sent their P45s are the comrades of murdered Drummer Lee Rigby.

The Woolwich victim's 2nd Battalion of The Royal Regiment of Fusiliers has a long and glorious history, but neither that nor the moral claim to special consideration following the loss of one of its own in such uniquely terrible circumstances could save the 600-strong force from the ConDem axe.

Small wonder that, in a shocking development that the controlled media are keeping quiet, morale is so low that nearly every regiment in the British Army now has dozens of young soldiers on suicide watch.

Despite the huge support shown by the public through Help for Heroes and other great military charities, the exploitation and contempt at the hands of the political elite is straining our Armed Forces to breaking point. It isn't just the cuts, it's the attitudes they expose which are doing the damage.

There isn't, of course, much at present that the BNP can he is wanted for terrorism. In the case of Anjem Choudary, they simply wring their hands and tell us "nothing can be done, because he was born here."

So what? If a cat has kittens in a stable it doesn't make them horses. Choudary has no place in Britain. This Islamist monster should be given a straightforward choice:

He can claim to be British, and face trial and the death penalty for treason. Or he must admit to having no place in our tolerant, secular, democratic country and be shipped out on the first plane to Saudi Arabia.

After all, it's Saudi oil money that has poured into Britain to build the hardline Wahhabi mosques that are radicalising huge and growing sections of the Muslim population. The Saudis are incubating and spreading the disease of Islamic extremism, so they can't complain if we send them their own germs.

But politicians of all the old parties are collaborating with the Saudi and other Gulf state sovereign wealth funds that are buying up Britain's remaining national assets, so they won't take effective action against the Wahhabi sponsors of Islamic radicalism or against the preachers of hate.

Meanwhile, Nigel Farage looks

The BNP demand that Cameron deport the vile Anjem Choudary immediately along with all other Islamist Hate Preachers

the other way and avoids the issue, because he doesn't want to upset the pro-Muslim BBC.

And all the time, the cowardice of the 'mainstream' politicians leaves the Muslim preachers of hate free to plant the seeds of terrorism and murder in the minds of more young men. Every sermon they are allowed to make primes

No one who thinks like that has a place in modern Britain

another potential human timebomb in our midst.

How many more must die before this rotten, cowardly excuse for a government takes action to turn off the Islamists' conveyor belt to terror? For their failure to do so means that there will be more 7/7 and Woolwich style atrocities. With every one that happens, the hands of Cameron and all the rest will be covered with the blood of even more innocents.

So it is left to the British National Party to state the obvious and propose the only practical answer:

Deport not just Abu Qatada, but also Anjem Choudary, and every sympathiser for their message of hate and violence towards the 'kuffar' – as they call all Unbelievers and even genuinely moderate Muslims. It doesn't matter where they were born, no one who thinks like that has a place in modern Britain!

That's why this summer will see our activist teams out on high streets and doorsteps all over the country with Nick Griffin's MEP petition, giving people the chance to tell Cameron & Co to do the right thing for once: Kick Islamist Hate Preachers OUT!

PATRIOTIC MERCHANDISE

Coffee
mug £6.50

soldiers at the end of every war faced cuts and neglect, the run-up to the next one would see a big increase in defence spending as the military were expanded and re-equipped.

Not anymore, because Cameron & Co are even worse. Even as they plot and scheme to drag Britain into ever more futile and counter-productive conflicts, the Westminster warmongers are cutting the army by nearly a quarter.

By the time the latest round of cuts go through, the British army will be smaller than at any time since before the Napoleonic Wars.

If the plan was only to use our Armed Forces to defend Britain and British interests, that might just about be acceptable. But Cameron, Hague, Miliband and all the rest are constantly looking for places to poke their noses in by sending British troops and jets: Iraq, the Balkans, Libya, Africa, Jordan, Syria, Iran – the list of their meddling just keeps growing.

They all shed a few crocodile tears in the House when a few more of their ill-equipped neither that nor the moral claim to special consideration following the loss of one of its own in such uniquely terrible circumstances could save the 600-strong force from the ConDem axe.

Small wonder that, in a shocking development that the controlled media are keeping quiet, morale is so low that nearly every regiment in the British Army now has dozens of young soldiers on suicide watch.

Despite the huge support shown by the public through Help for Heroes and other great military charities, the exploitation and contempt at the hands of the political elite is straining our Armed Forces to breaking point. It isn't just the cuts, it's the attitudes they expose which are doing the damage.

There isn't, of course, much at present that the BNP can do, save to point out the problem. But what we can do, we will do.

So, as an experiment and as a 'thank you' to the men and women who risk their lives for our security and our freedom, we are offering free membership of the British National Party to any member of HM Armed Forces who sends in a copy of their redundancy notice together with their membership application.

It's the least we can do.

huge and growing sections of the Muslim population. The Saudis are incubating and spreading the disease of Islamic extremism, so they can't complain if we send them their own germs.

But politicians of all the old parties are collaborating with the Saudi and other Gulf state sovereign wealth funds that are buying up Britain's remaining national assets, so they won't take effective action against the Wahhabi sponsors of Islamic radicalism or against the preachers of hate.

Meanwhile, Nigel Farage looks

young men. Every sermon they are allowed to make primes

No one who thinks like that has a place in modern Britain

another potential human timebomb in our midst.

How many more must die before this rotten, cowardly excuse for a government takes action to turn off the Islamists' conveyor belt to terror? For their failure to do so means that there will be more 7/7 and Woolwich style atrocities. With but also Anjem Choudary, and every sympathiser for their message of hate and violence towards the 'kuffar' – as they call all Unbelievers and even genuinely moderate Muslims. It doesn't matter where they were born, no one who thinks like that has a place in modern Britain!

That's why this summer will see our activist teams out on high streets and doorsteps all over the country with Nick Griffin's MEP petition, giving people the chance to tell Cameron & Co to do the right thing for once: Kick Islamist Hate Preachers OUT!

PATRIOTIC MERCHANDISE

Polo shirt
£12.99

Sweatshirt
£17.99

Heart shopping bag £3.95

Coffee
mug £6.50

Order online at www.buyexcalibur.co.uk or phone 0871 0500 242 or send a cheque or postal order to 'Excalibur' PO Box 5057, Nuneaton CV11 9FP

Excalibur

Enough is enough – Islamic Hate Preachers must go BNP demand action

With huge public anger over the role of hate preacher Anjem Choudary in 'inspiring' the murder of Lee Rigby, BNP activists demonstrated in central London to demand his expulsion from Britain

BNP demand action

With huge public anger over the role of hate preacher Anjem Choudary in 'inspiring' the murder of Lee Rigby, BNP activists demonstrated in central London to demand his expulsion from Britain

Millions of decent people all over Britain are still seething with righteous anger over revelations about government and police failure to stop the Islamist gang that went cranks who managed to get themselves arrested while giving the police the excuse to stop us laying flowers at the Cenotaph.

This is just the start of a campaign that will run

Millions of decent people all over Britain are still seething with righteous anger over revelations about government and police failure to stop the Islamist gang that went from fighting with the police at demonstrations to murdering Lee Rigby.

But while others complain, the BNP is doing something about it. Our campaign to kick out the Islamist preachers of hate started with more than 200 activists gathering for the largest party demo for years in London.

The demonstration gained nationwide media coverage for our message, not least thanks to the 58 far-left cranks who managed to get themselves arrested while giving the police the excuse to stop us laying flowers at the Cenotaph.

This is just the start of a campaign that will run all summer, with leaflets, petition forms and tabletop stalls all giving the public the chance to tell Cameron exactly what we all think – and to sign up firm supporters for postal votes and even BNP membership.

We've got to build the party, because no-one else is even willing to talk about the problems of mass immigration and Islamism, let alone do anything to put things right and protect Britain.

Watch all footage of the Hate Preachers Out demo at www.bnptv.org.uk and on YouTube

Sign the Hate Preacher Out online petition today

Get 10,000 signatures and Nick Griffin will personally deliver the petition to 10 Downing Street. Sign it at www.nickgriffinmep.eu

Britain out of foreign wars

Nick Griffin delivers his speech to the British nation following the ritual slaughter by Muslim jihadis on the streets of Woolwich. Mr. Griffin demanded action from Cameron's Government to remove the threat to the British people by deporting Islamic Hate Preachers Now whether they were born in Britain or anywhere else

Our troops should be pulled out of foreign wars that do not directly protect our interests. The BNP would bring British troops back from Muslim countries, and Muslims who don't share our values should leave ours

"Making Britain safe again is simple – close down the preachers of Islamist hate and get us out of the foreign

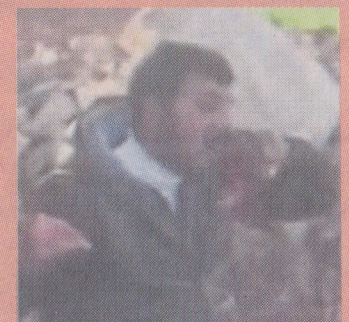

government decisions to go to war in Iraq, Afghanistan and Libya – and now to meddle in Syria – have cost bankrupt

Con interference in Libya and Syria has helped turn those countries into giant Islamist terror training camps.

The war mongers want to fund terror – with your money!

The 'Free Syrian Army' consisting of foreign terrorists, including from the EU countries, has been found guilty of scores of human rights atrocities and war crimes including using children to decapitate prisoners and eating the hearts of murdered Syrian soldiers (pictured) – Cameron, Miliband and Hague want to arm these terrorists with your money!

foreign wars

Nick Griffin delivers his speech to the British nation following the ritual slaughter by Muslim jihadis on the streets of Woolwich. Mr. Griffin demanded action from Cameron's Government to remove the threat to the British people by deporting Islamic Hate Preachers Now whether they were born in Britain or anywhere else

Our troops should be pulled out of foreign wars that do not directly protect our interests. The BNP would bring British troops back from Muslim countries, and Muslims who don't share our values should leave ours

"Making Britain safe again is simple – close down the preachers of Islamist hate and get us out of the foreign wars that turn angry young Muslims into easy recruits for terror and give them training grounds. After Woolwich, it's even more important to get this right."

That's the heart of Nick Griffin's BNP message on how to stop more atrocities such as the brutal murder of Lee Rigby.

Labour and Conservative

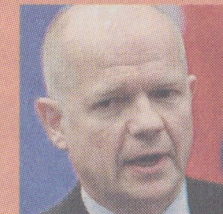

government decisions to go to war in Iraq, Afghanistan and Libya – and now to meddle in Syria – have cost bankrupt Britain £Billions. All the savings from all Osborne's austerity cuts have been thrown down the drain of foreign wars that have nothing to do with Britain.

Even worse, the disasters in Iraq and Afghanistan have added to the hate that millions of Muslims, including many living here – feel towards Britain. At the same time, Lab-

Con interference in Libya and Syria has helped turn those countries into giant Islamist terror training camps.

We should keep out of these foreign quarrels. Our troops should be brought home to guard our own borders.

And our military budget should be used to reverse defence cuts and re-equip our troops so that, if they do have to go to war to protect Britain, they are properly equipped to do the job and come home victorious and safe.

The 'Free Syrian Army' consisting of foreign terrorists, including from the EU countries, has been found guilty of scores of human rights atrocities and war crimes including using children to decapitate prisoners and eating the hearts of murdered Syrian soldiers (pictured) – Cameron, Miliband and Hague want to arm these terrorists with your money!

The Cameron/Obama plan to arm rebels in Syria is just the latest act of criminal madness by successive British governments.

The plan to arm the cannibal rebels in Syria is the worst yet. Because while the so-called Free Syrian Army has a few 'moderate' political figureheads, the front-line fighters are dominated by 40,000 make bombs and behead prisoners. If Cameron goes ahead with his plan to send them weapons, we'll be paying to arm people who will turn them against us.

Two videos which the controlled media won't let you see sum it all up. The first shows missiles capable of bringing down passenger jets, already in the hands of rebels

The plan to arm the cannibal rebels in Syria is the worst yet

Nick Griffin on Twitter

on the streets of Woolwich.
Mr. Griffin demanded action from Cameron's Government to remove the threat to the British people by deporting Islamic Hate Preachers
Now whether they were born in Britain or anywhere else

Our troops should be pulled out of foreign wars that do not directly protect our interests. The BNP would bring British troops back from Muslim countries, and Muslims who don't share our values should leave ours

"Making Britain safe again is simple – close down the preachers of Islamist hate and get us out of the foreign wars that turn angry young Muslims into easy recruits for terror and give them training grounds. After Woolwich, it's even more important to get this right."

That's the heart of Nick Griffin's BNP message on how to stop more atrocities such as the brutal murder of Lee Rigby.

Labour and Conservative

government decisions to go to war in Iraq, Afghanistan and Libya – and now to meddle in Syria – have cost bankrupt Britain £Billions. All the savings from all Osbourne's austerity cuts have been thrown down the drain of foreign wars that have nothing to do with Britain.

Even worse, the disasters in Iraq and Afghanistan have added to the hate that millions of Muslims, including many living here – feel towards Britain. At the same time, Lab-

Con interference in Libya and Syria has helped turn those countries into giant Islamist terror training camps.

We should keep out of these foreign quarrels. Our troops should be brought home to guard our own borders.

And our military budget should be used to reverse defence cuts and re-equip our troops so that, if they do have to go to war to protect Britain, they are properly equipped to do the job and come home victorious and safe.

FB.com/Syrian.Truth

The 'Free Syrian Army' consisting of foreign terrorists, including from the EU countries, has been found guilty of scores of human rights atrocities and war crimes including using children to decapitate prisoners and eating the hearts of murdered Syrian soldiers (pictured) – Cameron, Miliband and Hague want to arm
these terrorists with your money!

The Cameron/Obama plan to arm rebels in Syria is just the latest act of criminal madness by successive British governments.

The plan to arm the cannibal rebels in Syria is the worst yet. Because while the so-called Free Syrian Army has a few 'moderate' political figure-heads, the front-line fighters are dominated by 40,000
foreign jihadi fanatics.

So the training and weapons will go direct to Islamist monsters who will use Syria as a springboard from which to launch a terror jihad against the West.

Right now, scores of 'British' jihadists are fighting with the rebels in Syria – learning to make bombs and behead prisoners. If Cameron goes ahead with his plan to send them weapons, we'll be paying to arm people who will turn them against us.

Two videos which the controlled media won't let you see sum it all up. The first shows missiles capable of bringing down passenger jets, already in the hands of rebels

whose commander has a broad northern English Pakistani accent.

The second, recorded by Nick Griffin on his fact-finding mission to Damascus, shows a captured rebel openly boasting about his plans to attack Europe next. Arming such people is madness!

The plan to arm the cannibal rebels in Syria is the worst yet

Nick Griffin on Twitter

Follow Nick Griffin on Twitter and get all the latest news from Britain's most controversial politician

Join over 26,000 followers. Cut out the controlled media lies and hear get the latest news direct and straight from the man himself!

Sign up and follow Nick Griffin on Twitter today
@nickgriffinmep

NickGriffinMEP.eu
Non-Attached Member of the European Parliament

Disclaimer The views in this advertisement are the sole views of Nick Griffin, non-attached member of the European Parliament and not the views of the European Parliament. The European Parliament takes no responsibility for the content of this literature.

Spread the truth. Watch these videos at BNPtv and on YouTube and pass them on to all your friends

The road to Damascus

Britain's most controversial politician has done it again! Whose news is the BBC reporting?

Nick Griffin MEP visited Damascus, the capital of 'war torn' Syria to see for himself the results of Western interference

Right: Nick Griffin meets and talks with Syrian Prime Minister, Wael Nader Al-Halqi

Nick Griffin's visit to Syria didn't just stun the controlled media into a day of straight and factual reporting, it helped to reshape the political discussion over events in which, although a long way away, are critically

This organisation primarily specialises in providing teams of independent election monitors but in this case had been asked by the

A key Syrian concern is Islamist terrorists

was to draw attention to, and begin work to try to resolve, the problem of the hundreds of Islamist terrorists from EU countries (including Britain) fighting with rebel forces on the Turkish border.

The other most prominent member of the resulting

At it again: The BBC reports an 'alleged' chemical attack which it claims was perpetrated by the Government forces in Syria

A 180 degree U-turn by the BBC! That was the most immediate result of all the publicity surrounding Nick Griffin's visit.

When the media picked up and made big news of his tweets about Damascus being remarkable normal (with less security and fewer signs of war than Belfast in the 1980s), this broke a propaganda image that had been pushed by the UK's controlled media for two whole years.

on his return would expose the entire mainstream media (MSM) as liars.

Hence the remarkable decision of the BBC to broadcast a 'spoiler' report, telling the world that, contrary to all previous reports of a city and state in chaos and crisis, life in Damascus is normal and comfortable, and large numbers of Syrians strongly support their President.

In one go, this cut swathes of ground from under the feet

Britain's most controversial politician has done it again!

Nick Griffin MEP visited Damascus, the capital of 'war torn' Syria to see for himself the results of Western interference

Right: Nick Griffin meets and talks with Syrian Prime Minister, Wael Nader Al-Halqi

Nick Griffin's visit to Syria didn't just stun the controlled media into a day of straight and factual reporting, it helped to reshape the political discussion over events in which, although a long way away, are critically important to Britain.

Nick's invitation to become the first MEP to visit Syria since the Islamist invasion two years ago came from the Vienna-based European Institute for Geopolitical Analysis.

This organisation primarily specialises in providing teams of independent election monitors but in this case had been asked by the

A key Syrian concern is Islamist terrorists from EU countries

Syrian Foreign Ministry to find a group of open-minded politicians and journalists to go to Damascus.

The Syrians' main concern

was to draw attention to, and begin work to try to resolve, the problem of the hundreds of Islamist terrorists from EU countries (including Britain) fighting with rebel forces on the Turkish border.

The other most prominent member of the resulting delegation was Vlaams Belang MP Filip Dewinter. Also present were Polish, French and Belgian journalists and former MEP Roberto Fiore, leader of Italy's Forza Nuova party.

Establishment politicians

In a pattern that is now familiar from other controversial issues – including concepts such as 'British Jobs for British insane plan to arm the rebels. Within 24 hours of the BNP position becoming big news, Nigel Farage, senior Tory MEP Daniel whose news is the BBC reporting?

At it again: The BBC reports an 'alleged' chemical attack which it claims was perpetrated by the Government forces in Syria

A 180 degree U-turn by the BBC! That was the most immediate result of all the publicity surrounding Nick Griffin's visit.

When the media picked up and made big news of his tweets about Damascus being remarkable normal (with less security and fewer signs of war than Belfast in the 1980s), this broke a propaganda image that had been pushed by the UK's controlled media for two whole years.

Having done an (unused) interview with Mr. Griffin in the middle of Damascus, the BBC knew that the footage of the remarkable normality of life in the huge city he was going to release on the Internet on his return would expose the entire mainstream media (MSM) as liars.

Hence the remarkable decision of the BBC to broadcast a 'spoiler' report, telling the world that, contrary to all previous reports of a city and state in chaos and crisis, life in Damascus is normal and comfortable, and large numbers of Syrians strongly support their President.

In one go, this cut swathes of ground from under the feet of Cameron and the other warmongers, whose lies in favour of arming the rebels centre on the claim that the Syrian people are desperate to be freed from a tyrannical government.

Right: Nick Griffin meets and talks with Syrian Prime Minister, Wael Nader Al-Halqi

Nick Griffin's visit to Syria didn't just stun the controlled media into a day of straight and factual reporting, it helped to reshape the political discussion over events in which, although a long way away, are critically important to Britain.

Nick's invitation to become the first MEP to visit Syria since the Islamist invasion two years ago came from the Vienna-based European Institute for Geopolitical Analysis.

This organisation primarily specialises in providing teams of independent election monitors but in this case had been asked by the

A key Syrian concern is Islamist terrorists from EU countries

Syrian Foreign Ministry to find a group of open-minded politicians and journalists to go to Damascus.

The Syrians' main concern

was to draw attention to, and begin work to try to resolve, the problem of the hundreds of Islamist terrorists from EU countries (including Britain) fighting with rebel forces on the Turkish border.

The other most prominent member of the resulting delegation was Vlaams Belang MP Filip Dewinter. Also present were Polish, French and Belgian journalists and former MEP Roberto Fiore, leader of Italy's Forza Nuova party.

Establishment politicians take on BNP position – once again

The biggest shock to the warmongers must have been the waves of favourable comments that appeared on online newspaper reports of Mr. Griffin's visit. It certainly had an immediate impact on the political landscape.

In a pattern that is now familiar from other controversial issues – including concepts such as 'British Jobs for British Workers', policies on everything from housing to immigration restrictions, and tackling problems such as the grooming scandal – once the BNP leads the way and breaks the taboo, other politicians follow. They try to steal our clothes in order to try to deny us the 'political space' and to boost their own standing.

Before Nick Griffin went to Syria, no mainstream British politician had gone public with serious opposition to Cameron's insane plan to arm the rebels. Within 24 hours of the BNP position becoming big news, Nigel Farage, senior Tory MEP Daniel Hannan and London Mayor Boris Johnson were queuing up to make high profile echoes of the BNP leader's warning.

So even though the BNP is so unfairly treated by the controlled media and even though we often do not achieve the electoral breakthroughs that the popularity of our ideas deserve, we are having an increasing impact on the direction of British politics. And they ain't seen nothing yet!

A 180 degree U-turn by the BBC! That was the most immediate result of all the publicity surrounding Nick Griffin's visit.

When the media picked up and made big news of his tweets about Damascus being remarkable normal (with less security and fewer signs of war than Belfast in the 1980s), this broke a propaganda image that had been pushed by the UK's controlled media for two whole years.

Having done an (unused) interview with Mr. Griffin in the middle of Damascus, the BBC knew that the footage of the remarkable normality of life in the huge city he was going to release on the Internet on his return would expose the entire mainstream media (MSM) as liars.

Hence the remarkable decision of the BBC to broadcast a 'spoiler' report, telling the world that, contrary to all previous reports of a city and state in chaos and crisis, life in Damascus is normal and comfortable, and large numbers of Syrians strongly support their President.

In one go, this cut swathes of ground from under the feet of Cameron and the other warmongers, whose lies in favour of arming the rebels centre on the claim that the Syrian people are desperate to be freed from a tyrannical government.

While the controlled BBC refused to broadcast their own interview with Nick Griffin in a Damascus police station that had just been hit by a double suicide bomb, the increasingly popular and far more reliable RT (Russia Today) news channel carried a very straight and fair interview with Mr. Griffin on his return to the European Parliament

Watch all the latest videos at www.bnptv.org.uk

Labour steal BNP housing policy

Policy thief: Ed Miliband's Labour Party are so thin on ground for ideas they're stealing policies from their only real opposition, the British National Party

Another commonsense BNP policy for making Britain better has filtered into the political mainstream. Labour leader Ed Miliband has just announced a plan to tackle the housing crisis that is lifted directly from the Housing Policy paper written by Nick Griffin and a group of housing industry experts back in April last year.

The very first proposal in the BNP's 12-point plan addressed the problem of big developers hoarding building plots with planning permission in order to drive up the price of building land and their profits. With more than 400,000 plots being blocked in this way, tax should go directly into new social housing provision and the effect would be to encourage the release of building land at more affordable prices."

Under Labour's copycat scheme, property firms which buy land with planning permission as an investment and fail to develop it would face tough penalties. They could receive heavy fines or tax demands from local councils and even the threat of compulsory purchase orders

Isn't it a shame that he didn't have the decency to admit that?

as a way of forcing them to develop the land.

Quite right too! But isn't it a shame that he didn't have the decency to admit that, yet again, a 'mainstream' party has just stolen another commonsense policy from the "unspeakable, knuckle-draggers"?

The reality, of course, is that the Westminster parties are so out of touch that, despite having research departments funded with millions of pounds every year, they can't come up with solutions because they don't even understand the problems faced by ordinary people.

Cut off in their Westminster Village bubble, they understand little and care even less. But as elections loom, they know they have to do something to appeal to the masses, so they trawl the Peace envoy calls for war

Tony Blair demands funds for terror gang attacks on Syrian Government. What else would you expect from a Zionist 'peace envoy' and war criminal?

Unsurprisingly the major power's Middle East peace envoy, speaking from Israel recently, categorically stated that the only way to resolve the Syrian conflict was to arm the Salafi terrorists from Jordan and various north African states, who are illegally fighting the Alawite government.

It would seem that Tony Blair, war criminal and Wahhabi convert (one would suspect), does not appear to understand that peace envoys do not go around the world supporting a priority for any free peoples. Sadly though we are no longer free, but today live in a police state run by a criminal political elite who are only interested in one thing: Exerting their power purely for personal gain.

So we have it on authority from the Middle East peace envoy. Illegal war waged by jihadi terrorists is the answer. Reading his justification it seems he thinks this is our last chance to get involved and we must not miss this opportunity to kill millions of innocent people.

There is no end game, no final

Policy thief: Ed Miliband's Labour Party are so thin on ground for ideas they're stealing policies from their only real opposition, the British National Party

Another commonsense BNP policy for making Britain better has filtered into the political mainstream. Labour leader Ed Miliband has just announced a plan to tackle the housing crisis that is lifted directly from the Housing Policy paper written by Nick Griffin and a group of housing industry experts back in April last year.

The very first proposal in the BNP's 12-point plan addressed the problem of big developers hoarding building plots with planning permission in order to drive up the price of building land and their profits. With more than 400,000 plots being blocked in this way, big developers are distorting the market and adding to the homeless crisis.

The BNP answer a year ago was simple and effective: "Impose a land tax on hoarded building land. Many private sectors developers have these resources while attempting to keep prices artificially high.

"The revenue from this land

tax should go directly into new social housing provision and the effect would be to encourage the release of building land at more affordable prices."

Under Labour's copycat scheme, property firms which buy land with planning permission as an investment and fail to develop it would face tough penalties. They could receive heavy fines or tax demands from local councils and even the threat of compulsory purchase orders as a way of forcing them to develop the land.

Isn't it a shame that he didn't have the decency to admit that?

Speaking to Labour's National Policy Forum, Miliband pointed out that "across our country there are firms sitting on land waiting for it to accumulate in value and not building on it – landowners with planning permission who simply do not build. We have to change that... permission to build should mean landowners build."

Quite right too! But isn't it a shame that he didn't have the decency to admit that, yet again, a 'mainstream' party has just stolen another commonsense policy from the "unspeakable, knuckle-draggers"?

The reality, of course, is that the Westminster parties are so out of touch that, despite having research departments funded with millions of pounds of taxpayers' money every year, they can't come up with solutions because they don't even understand the problems faced by ordinary people.

Cut off in their Westminster Village bubble, they understand little and care even less. But as elections loom, they know they have to do something to appeal to the masses, so they trawl the BNP website for good, practical ideas from the grass-roots of British politics.

While it's frustrating, it also shows that, even though the cheating and unfairness of the present system denies us the representation our efforts deserve, at least our ideas are making a difference for the better.

Tony Blair demands funds for terror gang attacks on Syrian Government. What else would you expect from a Zionist 'peace envoy' and war criminal?

Unsurprisingly the major power's Middle East peace envoy, speaking from Israel recently, categorically stated that the only way to resolve the Syrian conflict was to arm the Salafi terrorists from Jordan and various north African states, who are illegally fighting the Alawite government.

It would seem that Tony Blair, war criminal and Wahhabi convert (one would suspect), does not appear to understand that peace envoys do not go around the world supporting illegal terrorist groups.

At least not normal peace envoys (though Blair speaks like a man just dropped £5million by your average friendly Saudi dictator).

While it is clear that Tony is the most unsuccessful and incompetent peace envoy ever, it is pure hypocrisy to use his position to promote terrorism.

But then who in their right mind would appoint a war criminal to be a peace envoy anyway?

Apparently it is all just a front to make even more money for this congenital idiot who clearly has no morals or sense of honour.

a priority for any free peoples. Sadly though we are no longer free, but today live in a police state run by a criminal political elite who are only interested in one thing: Exerting their power purely for personal gain.

So we have it on authority from the Middle East peace envoy. Illegal war waged by jihadi terrorists is the answer. Reading his justification it seems he thinks this is our last chance to get involved and we must not miss this opportunity to kill millions of innocent people.

There is no end game, no final situation envisaged, just as in Iraq. There is no justification other than supporting war criminals, like himself.

Of course he makes no mention of the Saudi Wahhabi desire to rule first the Middle East and then take over Europe. Neither does he mention the Saudi aim to build a gas pipeline to the Mediterranean nor that he hopes this will pull the economic rug from under Russia when it has no one to sell their gas to when the Saudi pipeline is complete.

And of course, no mention of any back hander from a Saudi dictator.

Clearly Tony Blair's blood

Leave a worthy legacy

It comes to us all, and we can't take anything with us, but a growing number of dedicated patriots are inscribing their names in gold in the Book of Albion by remembering the British National Party in their wills.

just announced a plan to tackle the housing crisis that is lifted directly from the Housing Policy paper written by Nick Griffin and a group of housing industry experts back in April last year.

The very first proposal in the BNP's 12-point plan addressed the problem of big developers hoarding building plots with planning permission in order to drive up the price of building land and their profits. With more than 400,000 plots being blocked in this way, big developers are distorting the market and adding to the homeless crisis.

The BNP answer a year ago was simple and effective: "Impose a land tax on hoarded building land. Many private sectors developers have these resources while attempting to keep prices artificially high.

"The revenue from this land

scheme, property firms which buy land with planning permission as an investment and fail to develop it would face tough penalties. They could receive heavy fines or tax demands from local councils and even the threat of compulsory purchase orders Isn't it a shame that he didn't have the decency to admit that?

as a way of forcing them to develop the land.

Speaking to Labour's National Policy Forum, Miliband pointed out that "across our country there are firms sitting on land waiting for it to accumulate in value and not building on it – landowners with planning permission who simply do not build. We have to change that... permission to build should mean landowners build."

The reality, of course, is that the Westminster parties are so out of touch that, despite having research departments funded with millions of pounds of taxpayers' money every year, they can't come up with solutions because they don't even understand the problems faced by ordinary people.

Cut off in their Westminster Village bubble, they understand little and care even less. But as elections loom, they know they have to do something to appeal to the masses, so they trawl the BNP website for good, practical ideas from the grass-roots of British politics.

While it's frustrating, it also shows that, even though the cheating and unfairness of the present system denies us the representation our efforts deserve, at least our ideas are making a difference for the better.

Unsurprisingly the major power's Middle East peace envoy, speaking from Israel recently, categorically stated that the only way to resolve the Syrian conflict was to arm the Salafi terrorists from Jordan and various north African states, who are illegally fighting the Alawite government.

It would seem that Tony Blair, war criminal and Wahhabi convert (one would suspect), does not appear to understand that peace envoys do not go around the world supporting illegal terrorist groups.

At least not normal peace envoys (though Blair speaks like a man just dropped £5million by your average friendly Saudi dictator).

While it is clear that Tony is the most unsuccessful and incompetent peace envoy ever, it is pure hypocrisy to use his position to promote terrorism.

But then who in their right mind would appoint a war criminal to be a peace envoy anyway?

Apparently it is all just a front to make even more money for this congenital idiot who clearly has no morals or sense of honour. It is clear the rule of law, the value of life and common decency have no place in the make up of Blair.

This is curious for a man trained to be a lawyer practicing at the British bar. Clearly he should be behind bars and would be if justice was ever served for his criminal war crime murders.

The prosecution of our current prime minister, the last prime minister, Brown, and Blair all for their war crimes, should be a priority for any free peoples. Sadly though we are no longer free, but today live in a police state run by a criminal political elite who are only interested in one thing: Exerting their power purely for personal gain.

So we have it on authority from the Middle East peace envoy. Illegal war waged by jihadi terrorists is the answer. Reading his justification it seems he thinks this is our last chance to get involved and we must not miss this opportunity to kill millions of innocent people.

There is no end game, no final situation envisaged, just as in Iraq. There is no justification other than supporting war criminals, like himself.

Of course he makes no mention of the Saudi Wahhabi desire to rule first the Middle East and then take over Europe. Neither does he mention the Saudi aim to build a gas pipeline to the Mediterranean nor that he hopes this will pull the economic rug from under Russia when it has no one to sell their gas to when the Saudi pipeline is complete.

And of course, no mention of any back hander from a Saudi dictator.

Clearly Tony Blair's blood lust knows no bounds. At least, of course, as long as he doesn't have to do the fighting.

For hypocrisy 10, for double dealing 10 and for utter stupidity 10. 30 points for stupidity, meddling and total lack of morals. Or maybe the modern equivalent of 30 pieces of silver?

Clearly there must be a place in Blair's peace foundation for Cameron when push comes to shove.

Leave a worthy legacy

It comes to us all, and we can't take anything with us, but a growing number of dedicated patriots are inscribing their names in gold in the Book of Albion by remembering the British National Party in their wills.

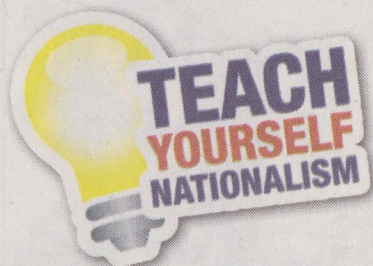

Two years ago, three timely bequests literally saved the Party.

Several more now coming through will give us the reserves we need for stability and careful progress. Just a few more bequests from patriots like you leaving your worldly assets to the BNP and we can make advances that could transform British politics.

Secure your place in the hearts of all patriots – and help to give a brighter future to all the Children of Albion!

Change the course of politics in Britain and take advantage of the BNP's new Will Writing or Executor's services, for a confidential discussion with a key member of our Treasury team. Call now on 0844 809 4581

Who wants war?

The politicians make the big issues sound complex, in the hope that people will leave things to the 'experts'

The truth is that the problems they've caused can be put right with simple nationalist solutions

Each issue we look at a current news story, and explain how our nationalism will make Britain better...

Britain is bankrupt. ConDem cuts are hitting everyone. Pensioners, poor families, NHS staff – no-one and nothing is safe. Even Lee Rigby's 600 comrades in the 2nd Battalion of The Royal Regiment of Fusiliers have just had their redundancy notices.

Yet Cameron and Hague are ploughing ahead with their insane plan to arm Al-Qaeda rebels in Syria.

Despite all we know about them beheading captured soldiers, eating the hearts of their enemies and massacring entire Christian villages, Cameron is hell-bent on backing the rebels.

The only way to keep Britain out of foreign wars that are none of our business is to understand who wants war – and why. So we look here at the hidden powers trying to force Britain to arm the jihadi terror rebels in Syria.

Zionists & NeoCons

Middle East.

If the West helps the Islamist rebels to break up Syria into sectarian mini-

Saudi money

Bahrain, are followers of the extreme Wahhabi sect. These dangerous religious bigots are

Saudis and others are funding extremist hate preachers in most of Britain's mosques, as well as the politicians make the big issues sound complex, in the hope that people will leave things to the 'experts'

The truth is that the problems they've caused can be put right with simple nationalist solutions

Each issue we look at a current news story, and explain how our nationalism will make Britain better...

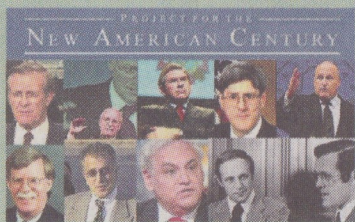

— no-one and nothing is safe. Even Lee Rigby's 600 comrades in the 2nd Battalion of The Royal Regiment of Fusiliers have just had their redundancy notices.

Yet Cameron and Hague are ploughing ahead with their insane plan to arm Al-Qaeda rebels in Syria.

Despite all we know about them beheading captured soldiers, eating the hearts of their enemies and massacring entire Christian villages, Cameron is hell-bent on backing the rebels.

The only way to keep Britain out of foreign wars that are none of our business is to understand who wants war – and why. So we look here at the hidden powers trying to force Britain to arm the jihadi terror rebels in Syria.

Zionists & NeoCons

The Syrian government has always provided help to the Palestinians. They are also allied to Iran, which is next on the hit list for the people who want to ensure that the USA and Israel dominate the entire

Middle East.

If the West helps the Islamist rebels to break up Syria into sectarian mini-states, they will be too busy fighting each other to get in the way of the neo-con plan to "remake the Middle East" in the interests of Israel and Big Oil.

Western politicians are afraid of the clout of pro-Zionist media outlets such as Rupert Murdoch's Sky/Sun/times empire.

Saudi money

The Saudi royal family, together with the rulers of the other Gulf states such as Qatar and

Bahrain, are followers of the extreme Wahhabi sect. These dangerous religious bigots are using their petro-dollars in a push to spread their brutal version of Islam through the whole world.

The Wahhabis believe that secular, non-Islamist states such as Syria and Britain should be Islamified. That's why the

Saudis and others are funding extremist hate preachers in most of Britain's mosques, as well as the Muslim Brotherhood war against Syria.

Their money is also propping up the credit ratings and arms industries of France and the UK, with backhanders going to current and retired politicians who do what the Saudis tell them.

What does it matter

US Corporations

they will spread their

Unbelievers flying out of each issue we look at a current news story, and explain how our nationalism

will make Britain better...

The only way to keep Britain out of foreign wars that are none of our business is to understand who wants war – and why.
So we look here at the hidden powers trying to force Britain to arm the jihadi terror rebels in Syria.

Zionists & NeoCons

The Syrian government has always provided help to the Palestinians. They are also allied to Iran, which is next on the hit list for the people who want to ensure that the USA and Israel dominate the entire

Middle East.

If the West helps the Islamist rebels to break up Syria into sectarian mini-states, they will be too busy fighting each other to get in the way of the neo-con plan to “remake the Middle East” in the interests of Israel and Big Oil.

Western politicians are afraid of the clout of pro-Zionist media outlets such as Rupert Murdoch’s Sky/Sun/times empire.

US Corporations

Giant companies such as Halliburton, headed by former US Vice-President Dick Cheney, make £Billions out of every war that their political puppets in Washington and various European capitals manage to drag us into.

They get rich providing the logistical support which helps the USA flatten countries like Iraq, and then even richer on the contracts to rebuild them. Companies such as Lockheed and Boeing make huge profits from war, so politicians and lobbyists on their payrolls look on conflict and instability not as human tragedies but as business opportunities.

Saudi money

The Saudi royal family, together with the rulers of the other Gulf states such as Qatar and

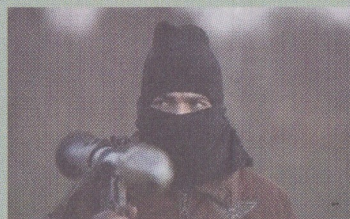

Bahrain, are followers of the extreme Wahhabi sect. These dangerous religious bigots are using their petro-dollars in a push to spread their brutal version of Islam through the whole world.

The Wahhabis believe that secular, non-Islamist states such as Syria and Britain should be Islamified. That’s why the

Saudis and others are funding extremist hate preachers in most of Britain’s mosques, as well as the Muslim Brotherhood war against Syria.

Their money is also propping up the credit ratings and arms industries of France and the UK, with backhanders going to current and retired politicians who do what the Saudis tell them.

What does it matter

While a few of the political figureheads of the so-called Free Syrian Army are moderates, the vast majority of the rebel fighters are hardline Islamists. If they win, they will spread their jihad elsewhere. If they lose, they will take their training and weapons back to the countries from which they come.

One rebel commander recently filmed with anti-aircraft missiles has a northern English accent. Today he wants to shoot down Syrian air force jets, but once the war is over he could just as easily target a plane full of Unbelievers flying out of Leeds Bradford airport on holiday.

Arming such Islamist fanatics is madness!

Election fraud Labour in the dock

Above: The High Court. Scene of our Equalities Commission persecution and eventual victory. Now Labour are going through the legal mill!
Inset: Alleged Labour election fraudster, Keith Little

A group of angry Maryport voters have filed a High Court petition over last month's county council elections.

Dawn Charlton, the BNP candidate in Maryport South won an incredible 41% of the vote in the May elections but was narrowly 'defeated' by Labour. Questions are now being asked as to whether that was the right and fair result.

The petitioners have identified eight ways in which the election was unfair.

They say electors were improperly prevented from voting by the actions of the Returning Officer or his staff and cite the fact that people were not added to the electoral register or postal voting list, despite applying in time, and that some postal ballots were not sent to or received by electors who had requested them.

If the petition is successful, the High Court could rule the election void or order it to be held again.

Cllr Clive Jefferson, the election agent for Dawn Charlton, said: "I believe there is a serious case to answer. I note that an Independent candidate in a Workington Division of Cumbria County Council has made similar complaints in respect of the same Returning Officer and has also lodged an election petition and police complaint. Keith Little should do the honourable thing, resign, and re-fight the election. People in Maryport feel they have been cheated."

Keith Little had little to say on the matter: "I am just getting on with my job, that's all I can do."

Police are taking this matter seriously. Statements have been taken and a case of electoral fraud is now being assessed by the CPS in relation to Maryport South.

On the 15th June the Returning Officer at the centre of the controversy, Harry Dyke, announced his retirement. Coincidence?

60

second interview

Lady Dorothy Brooke is a familiar at British National Party functions and has stood for the BNP on several occasions, most recently contesting the election in South Shields where she beat the ruling coalition LibDems, with more than double their vote. She is a stalwart BNP activist who was among the dedicated team which travelled down to London to attend the Hate Preachers Out demo (Featured on page 3).

Lady Dorothy Brooke BNP election candidate and activist

From: Whitley Bay
Branch: South Shields

Elections contested: 2 times
Membership: 4 years

Where were you born and tell us a bit about your family background?

I was born in Scotland, Coatbridge in Lanarkshire. I went to Gartsherrie Academy School. My father worked at Lambertons Engineering where he was a manager until he developed Rheumatoid Arthritis and was bed ridden for 7 years before dying at an early age. Witnessing my father's struggle with the disease motivated me and no-go white areas were developing. Some of the things he told me were very hard to believe. I used to think he was exaggerating until he took me to Bradford to see for myself. He drove me through the no-go areas which were very intimidating and quite frightening as cars followed us and racial abuse was shouted at us.

Favourite film?
Ghost with Patrick Swayze.
Favourite album?

Labour in the dock

Above: The High Court. Scene of our Equalities Commission persecution and eventual victory. Now Labour are going through the legal mill!
Inset: Alleged Labour election fraudster, Keith Little

A group of angry Maryport voters have filed a High Court petition over last month's county council elections.

Dawn Charlton, the BNP candidate in Maryport South won an incredible 41% of the vote in the May elections but was narrowly 'defeated' by Labour. Questions are now being asked as to whether that was the right and fair result.

The petitioners have identified eight ways in which the election was unfair.

They say electors were improperly prevented from voting by the actions of the Returning Officer or his staff and cite the fact that people were not added to the electoral register or postal voting list, despite applying in time, and that some postal ballots were not sent to or received by electors who had requested them.

If the petition is successful, the High Court could rule the election void or order it to be held again.

Cllr Clive Jefferson, the election agent for Dawn Charlton, said: "I believe there is a serious case to answer. I note that an Independent candidate in a Workington Division of Cumbria County Council has made similar complaints in respect of the same Returning Officer and has also lodged an election petition and police complaint. Keith Little should do the honourable thing, resign, and re-fight the election. People in Maryport feel they have been cheated."

Keith Little had little to say on the matter: "I am just getting on with my job, that's all I can do."

Police are taking this matter seriously. Statements have been taken and a case of electoral fraud is now being assessed by the CPS in relation to Maryport South.

On the 15th June the Returning Officer at the centre of the controversy, Harry Dyke, announced his retirement. Coincidence?

280+ BNP Online Activists

Scan this QR with your smart phone

Among the top online social activists as we go to print are Gavin Miller, Robert Simpson and Steve Brammer

second interview

Lady Dorothy Brooke is a familiar at British National Party functions and has stood for the BNP on several occasions, most recently contesting the election in South Shields where she beat the ruling coalition LibDems, with more than double their vote. She is a stalwart BNP activist who was among the dedicated team which travelled down to London to attend the Hate Preachers Out demo (Featured on page 3).

Lady Dorothy Brooke BNP election candidate and activist

From: Whitley Bay
Branch: South Shields

Elections contested: 2 times
Membership: 4 years

■ Where were you born and tell us a bit about your family background?

I was born in Scotland, Coatbridge in Lanarkshire. I went to Gartsherrie Academy School. My father worked at Lambertons Engineering where he was a manager until he developed Rheumatoid Arthritis and was bed ridden for 7 years before dying at an early age. Witnessing my father's struggle with the disease my ambition was always to become a nurse and

and no-go white areas were developing. Some of the things he told me were very hard to believe. I used to think he was exaggerating until he took me to Bradford to see for myself. He drove me through the no-go areas which were very intimidating and quite frightening as cars followed us and racial abuse was shouted at us.

■ Favourite film?
Ghost with Patrick Swayze.
■ Favourite album?
Anything by Elvis Presley.

He'd also talk of how the town became completely overrun and no-go white areas were developing help people care for people with all the qualities and compassion that my parents had shown for each other.

■ Your first political memory?

My father was politically

■ Best memory in the BNP?

My first BNP meeting in South Shields at which Nick Griffin spoke. I was very impressed because he addressed all the issues that

A group of angry Maryport voters have filed a High Court petition over last month's county council elections.

Dawn Charlton, the BNP candidate in Maryport South won an incredible 41% of the vote in the May elections but was narrowly 'defeated' by Labour. Questions are now being asked as to whether that was the right and fair result.

The petitioners have identified eight ways in which the election was unfair.

They say electors were improperly prevented from voting by the actions of the Returning Officer or his staff and cite the fact that people were not added to the electoral register or postal voting list, despite applying in time, and that some postal ballots were not sent to or received by electors who had been cheated."

Keith Little had little to say on the matter: "I am just getting on with my job, that's all I can do."

Police are taking this matter seriously. Statements have been taken and a case of electoral fraud is now being assessed by the CPS in relation to Maryport South.

On the 15th June the Returning Officer at the centre of the controversy, Harry Dyke, announced his retirement. Coincidence?

280+ BNP Online Activists

Among the top online social activists as we go to print are Gavin Miller, Robert Simpson and Steve Brammer

Reaching 100,000 new people with our message! That's our first target with our new BNP Online Activist operation – and we're nearly there already.

284 BNP Online Activists have already signed up and are spreading the word far and wide. Between them they've generated 3,517 extra visits. On Facebook alone they connect to a massive 81,024 other users.

Counting other social networks, our system now has almost 100,000 contacts – all of whom are hearing how good the party is through people they already know. Now that's power! The system is based on friendly competition - and people love it!

Sign up online and become an official BNP Online Activist today

Gain recognition for your activism, earn points, and win exclusive prizes.

Sign up now at www.bnp.org.uk/online-activist

■ Where were you born and tell us a bit about your family background?

I was born in Scotland, Coatbridge in Lanarkshire. I went to Gartsherrie Academy School. My father worked at Lambertons Engineering where he was a manager until he developed Rheumatoid Arthritis and was bed ridden for 7 years before dying at an early age. Witnessing my father's struggle with the disease my ambition was always to become a nurse and

and no-go white areas were developing. Some of the things he told me were very hard to believe. I used to think he was exaggerating until he took me to Bradford to see for myself. He drove me through the no-go areas which were very intimidating and quite frightening as cars followed us and racial abuse was shouted at us.

■ Favourite film?

Ghost with Patrick Swayze.

■ Favourite album?

Anything by Elvis Presley.

He'd also talk of how the town became completely overrun and no-go white areas were developing help people care for people with all the qualities and compassion that my parents had shown for each other.

■ Your first political memory?

My father was politically active and would hold committee meetings in our front room for local councillors especially on election days.

■ How did you first get involved with the BNP?

On meeting my husband he would talk about his home town of Bradford and how his children from a previous marriage could not get a school dinner if it was Ramadan because they were the minority. That was some thirty years ago. He'd also talk of how the town became completely overrun

■ Best memory in the BNP?

My first BNP meeting in South Shields at which Nick Griffin spoke. I was very impressed because he addressed all the issues that concerned me, was a perfect gentleman and easy to talk to. Right then I knew the BNP was the political party for me.

■ What's the best plans for the future going on in the BNP at present?

I'm excited by the fact that the British people are beginning to wake up to the real life problems that the old political parties have caused. I think our efforts to be active in the community all year round is what the electorate want and our drive for postal votes will pay off in the long term.

Real talk

Letters
Emails
Web Comments

More soldiers lose their jobs

Not content with sending our brave troops to fight foreign conflicts, the Cameron's Government has now announced it will make 20,000 soldiers redundant – insult to injury!

It was the war criminal Henry Kissinger who said "Soldiers are dumb animals to be used as political pawns." Sadly, this is how the cowardly politicians who would run at the sound of a gunshot treat our brave troops – with no respect at all. It's an utter disgrace!

Irishbrother
Web comment

Absolutely sickening betrayal of our armed forces, yet Cameron can suddenly find few words.

"For it's Tommy this and Tommy that an "Chuck him out the brute! But it's 'Saviour of 'is country' when the guns begin to shoot."

Yes all, read it, and realise the betrayal by the swine that govern us.

onlinedave
Web comment

Election fraud Labour in the dock

Labour is under investigation in the High Court for alleged election fraud which resulted in them narrowly beating the BNP in Maryport

I voted Labour for 35 years until I recently came to my senses. They shouldn't be called "Labour" any more, they should be called "The Foreigners' Party"

Kugelschreiber
Web comment

There has been far too much voting fraud, in this country, in recent years. I wish them luck in their petition to the high court.

Perhaps elections should be taken out of the hands

THE FASCISTS who deny everyone else the right to vote for the party they feel will best serve their interests.

The returning officer and counters should be in the hands of totally independent people and watched over by members of every party that have an interest in the results. No deliberate miscounting, no denying people the right to vote and no more rigging the elections to ensure their success. Heavy prison sentences should be handed out to anyone caught doing so.

The media made such a big deal about the BNP losing seats we had. In light of all the questionable practices we've seen lately, did we actually lose them? Or were they taken from us by election fraud?

Barnyl
Web comment

David Cameron – funding terrorism in Syria

Nick Griffin travels to Syria to see for himself the Syrian

Great work Mr. Griffin! You're the ONLY politician in Britain who is telling the truth and without a doubt, the hardest-working MEP.

Shirefella
Web comment

What a legend! No other politician would have the guts to do what you are doing – telling the truth – no matter what risk to your own personal health.

worthingsaint
Web comment

If only Britain had a news network as honest as this report. Thank Nick for BNPTv! And to everyone out there STILL voting LibLabCon – you are directly responsible for supporting these disgusting outrages! Wake up and vote BNP. Before it's too late.

Protectorate
Web comment

ED. Please note that BNPTv is run by a small and dedicated team who work tirelessly to broadcast independent, alternative news that the controlled media wants to hide from you. All credit goes to the BNPTv team and to everyone who has donated to help them buy the professional equipment which helps them do such a great job.

Well done Nick for

Hate Preachers Out demonstration

The peaceful BNP demo demanding that the Government kick Islamic Hate Preachers Out now, was met with violence by Government sponsored hate-group the UAF (ironically named Unite Against Fascism). Scores of UAF thugs were arrested by police.

The only fascists I saw on the streets of Westminster at the demo were from those in the ranks of the thugs from the UAF who clearly showed on the day their total opposition to any democratic process being allowed to any others acting in a peaceable manner, so let the destruction of our country be on their shoulders as the traitors of Britain.

JohnKent
BNPTv comment

Hats off to all in the BNP who had the sheer guts to hold their banners high in the face of the Commie mob. From across the pond, God Bless all of you, Bravest of Brave Patriot

More soldiers lose their jobs

Not content with sending our brave troops to fight foreign conflicts, the Cameron's Government has now announced it will make 20,000 soldiers redundant – insult to injury!

It was the war criminal Henry Kissinger who said "Soldiers are dumb animals to be used as political pawns." Sadly, this is how the cowardly politicians who would run at the sound of a gunshot treat our brave troops – with no respect at all. It's an utter disgrace!

irishbrother
Web comment

Absolutely sickening betrayal of our armed forces, yet Ca-moron can suddenly find money to arm "Syrian rebels". British National Party revolution NOW!!!

BritishBulldogFightsBack
Web comment

Rudyard Kipling says it all in his poem 'Tommy'. Here are a

Election fraud Labour in the dock

Labour is under investigation in the High Court for alleged election fraud which resulted in them narrowly beating the BNP in Maryport

I voted Labour for 35 years until I recently came to my senses. They shouldn't be called "Labour" any more, they should be called "The Foreigners' Party"

Kugelschreiber
Web comment

There has been far too much voting fraud, in this country, in recent years. I wish them luck in their petition to the high court.

Perhaps elections should be taken out of the hands of local councils.

Barnyl
Web comment

We can keep pushing and making this information known. More importantly, we can show everyone the WE ARE NOT results. No deliberate miscounting, no denying people the right to vote and no more rigging the elections to ensure their success. Heavy prison sentences should be handed out to anyone caught doing so.

The media made such a big deal about the BNP losing seats we had. In light of all the questionable practices we've seen lately, did we actually lose them? Or were they taken from us by election fraud?

Barnyl
Web comment

David Cameron – funding terrorism in Syria

Nick Griffin travels to Syria to see for himself the Syrian Government's struggle against Western sponsored Islamist jihadis

I admire Nick's bravery and consideration just to give his loyal followers good quality content.

blitzarium
BNPtv Youtube comment

guts to do what you are doing – telling the truth – no matter what risk to your own personal health.

worthingsaint
Web comment

If only Britain had a news network as honest as this report. Thank Nick for BNPtv! And to everyone out there STILL voting LibLabCon – you are directly responsible for supporting these disgusting outrages! Wake up and vote BNP. Before it's too late.

Protectorate
Web comment

ED. Please note that BNPtv is run by a small and dedicated team who work tirelessly to broadcast independent, alternative news that the controlled media wants to hide from you. All credit goes to the BNPtv team and to everyone who has donated to help them buy the professional equipment which helps them do such a great job.

Well done Nick for exposing the Cameron lust to join in on the attacks on Syria. I no longer believe a word from the BBC, Sky and 10 Downing Street. Liars the lot!

ourfreedom
BNPtv Youtube comment

The peaceful BNP demo demanding that the Government kick Islamic Hate Preachers Out now, was met with violence by Government sponsored hate-group the UAF (ironically named Unite Against Fascism). Scores of UAF thugs were arrested by police.

The only fascists I saw on the streets of Westminster at the demo were from those in the ranks of the thugs from the UAF who clearly showed on the day their total opposition to any democratic process being allowed to any others acting in a peaceable manner, so let the destruction of our country be on their shoulders as the traitors of Britain.

JohnKent
BNPtv comment

Hats off to all in the BNP who had the sheer guts to hold their banners high in the face of the Commie mob. From across the pond, God Bless all of you, Bravest of Brave Patriot Warriors.

John Beattie
BNPtv comment

Have your web comment published by leaving a popular comment on articles posted at bnp.org.uk

Subscribe today to THE VOICE OF FREEDOM

I would like to subscribe to Voice of Freedom,

UK £13.15

Europe £20.40

America: £30

Australia: £32.60

Name on card:

Please return to:

PO Box 5057, Nuneaton CV11 9FP

It was the war criminal Henry Kissinger who said "Soldiers are dumb animals to be used as political pawns." Sadly, this is how the cowardly politicians who would run at the sound of a gunshot treat our brave troops – with no respect at all. It's an utter disgrace!

irishbrother
Web comment

Absolutely sickening betrayal of our armed forces, yet Ca-moron can suddenly find money to arm "Syrian rebels". British National Party revolution NOW!!!

BritishBulldogFightsBack
Web comment

Rudyard Kipling says it all in his poem 'Tommy'. Here are a

I voted Labour for 35 years until I recently came to my senses. They shouldn't be called "Labour" any more, they should be called "The Foreigners' Party"

Kugelschreiber
Web comment

There has been far too much voting fraud, in this country, in recent years. I wish them luck in their petition to the high court.

Perhaps elections should be taken out of the hands of local councils.

Barnyl
Web comment

We can keep pushing and making this information known. More importantly, we can show everyone the WE ARE NOT

David Cameron – funding terrorism in Syria

Nick Griffin travels to Syria to see for himself the Syrian Government's struggle against Western sponsored Islamist jihadis

I admire Nick's bravery and consideration just to give his loyal followers good quality content.

blitzarium
BNPtv Youtube comment

Web comment

ED. Please note that BNPtv is run by a small and dedicated team who work tirelessly to broadcast independent, alternative news that the controlled media wants to hide from you. All credit goes to the BNPtv team and to everyone who has donated to help them buy the professional equipment which helps them do such a great job.

Well done Nick for exposing the Cameron lust to join in on the attacks on Syria. I no longer believe a word from the BBC, Sky and 10 Downing Street. Liars the lot!

ourfreedom
BNPtv Youtube comment

in a peaceable manner, so let the destruction of our country be on their shoulders as the traitors of Britain.

JohnKent
BNPtv comment

Hats off to all in the BNP who had the sheer guts to hold their banners high in the face of the Commie mob. From across the pond, God Bless all of you, Bravest of Brave Patriot Warriors.

John Beattie
BNPtv comment

Have your web comment published by leaving a popular comment on articles posted at bnp.org.uk

Subscribe today to FREEDOM

I would like to subscribe to Voice of Freedom, and I enclose a cheque/postal order made payable to 'British National Party' or 'British Heritage' for my 12 issues:

Subscribe right now by calling 0844 809 4581

UK £13.15 ☐ Europe £20.40 ☐ America: £30 ☐ Australia: £32.60 ☐

Name on card:

Card No:

Start Date: Expiry date:

Issue No: (Switch and Solo only) Security code: (Last three digits on reverse)

Card type: Mastercard ☐ Switch ☐ Visa ☐ Solo ☐

BILLING ADDRESS

House No: Postcode: Tel No:

Address:

Email:

Signature

Please return to:
PO Box 5057, Nuneaton CV11 9FP

SANTA comes early to Liverpool

Mike Whitby's (center) plan to develop the BNP Foodbank initiative aims to provide hard-up families and pensioners with food relief and clothing in the difficult winter months

Christmas is still a long way off, but SANTA is already planning deliveries workin Liverpool!

SANTA stands for Save And Nourish This Area and is the brainchild of Liverpool Branch

Organiser Mike Whitby and his stalwart activist team.

Like most good ideas, it's really very simple. Councillor Whitby explains: "It's an expansion of our already successful Food Bank project, where we've had local stalls collecting food for the needy, then redistributing it to families and pensioners in the area who need help.

"We've found that a lot of people don't like to admit that they need help, so by renaming the Foodbank operation as the SANTA Project and giving out hampers at Christmas time, we feel that the idea of receiving gifts then will be easier for recipients to accept.

"As well as non-perishable food stuffs, we'll be looking to raise money for toys to put into the hampers for young families. We're going to be sourcing teddy bears and putting BNP hearts on them. Every hamper will also have a British Christmas card."

Among the other ideas produced from a brainstorming session for the SANTA Project is the possibility of doing the deliveries from a car and trailer decorated as a sleigh, with someone dressed as Father Christmas.

"I think it's a tremendous idea," says Nick Griffin. "I'm giving £150 straight away from my English Fair Fund, and will add to that once the Project gets more than 50 hampers. As I put 10% of my salary each month into the Fund, there's more available to help other Branches who do something similar too."

The way in which the BNP's best branches are coming up with such projects shows how the concept of Practical Idealism, put forward by Mr. Griffin at this January's Organisers' Conference, is really taking root.

"Things like this aren't optional extras," says the BNP leader. "The understanding that we are here to serve and to educate by example, helping to restore a sense of true community spirit among our people, is central to the ideology of radical nationalism."

"As the old welfare safety net is shredded by austerity, privatisation and the corrosive selfishness of the 'elite', it is essential that communities rediscover the traditions of self-help and co-operation that were central to the patriotic socialism of the early Labour Party.

"The British National Party is the heir to those traditions. Let's get busy bringing them back to life!"

Like most good ideas, it's really very simple

You're still the best

Veterans attend anti-Islamisation demo

Mike Whitby's (center) plan to develop the BNP Foodbank initiative aims to provide hard-up families and pensioners with food relief and clothing in the difficult winter months

Christmas is still a long way off, but SANTA is already planning deliveries workin Liverpool!

SANTA stands for Save And Nourish This Area and is the brainchild of Liverpool Branch

Organiser Mike Whitby and his stalwart activist team.

Like most good ideas, it's really very simple. Councillor Whitby explains: "It's an expansion of our already successful Food Bank project, where we've had local stalls collecting food for the needy, then redistributing it to families and pensioners in the area who need help.

"We've found that a lot of people don't like to admit that they need help, so by renaming the Foodbank operation as the SANTA Project and giving out hampers at Christmas time, we

British Christmas card. Among the other ideas produced from a brainstorming session for the SANTA Project is the possibility of doing the deliveries from a car and trailer decorated as a sleigh, with someone dressed as Father Christmas.

"I think it's a tremendous idea," says Nick Griffin. "I'm giving £150 straight away from my English Fair Fund, and will add to that once the Project gets more than 50 hampers. As I put 10% of my salary each month into the Fund, there's more available to help other Branches who do something similar too."

Like most good ideas, it's really very simple that we are here to serve and to educate by example, helping to restore a sense of true community spirit among our people, is central to the ideology of radical nationalism.

"As the old welfare safety net is shredded by austerity, privatisation and the corrosive selfishness of the 'elite', it is essential that communities rediscover the traditions of self-help and co-operation that were central to the patriotic socialism of the early Labour Party.

"The British National Party is the heir to those traditions. Let's get busy bringing them back to life!"

You're still the best

...and the British National Party wants you.

The British Veterans' Group welcomes veterans and serving personnel of all Britain's armed services, including the Territorial Army.

Because you've proved yourself, we'd like to hear from you.

BVG – the pride of the BNP.

Please return to:
PO Box 105
Spennymoor
DL16 6BJ
or call 0844 809 4581

FIRST NAME:

SURNAME:

ADDRESS:

POSTCODE:

PHONE:

EMAIL:

Veterans attend anti-Islamisation demo

On Saturday 25th May 2013, British Veterans' Group (BVG) Officer, Pete

Molloy, attended an anti-Islamification demo in Newcastle upon Tyne that had been organised by the English Defence League.

Amongst the several thousand anti-Islamification protesters were many British military veterans, including a fellow veteran of Pete's former regiment, The King's Regiment, as well as parents of serving armed forces personnel.

One of the parents had lost her son in Afghanistan while he was serving with the Royal Corps of Signals. She felt

Pete Molloy with a supporter of British troops at the Newcastle demo

Islamists made it important to attended and show solidarity for a comrade and to denounce the Islamification of Britain, which all Islamists want and against the enemies of our people and country, so it is important that all Nationalist groups put aside their differences and work together."

Christmas is still a long way off, but SANTA is already planning deliveries workin Liverpool!

SANTA stands for Save And Nourish This Area and is the brainchild of Liverpool Branch

Organiser Mike Whitby and his stalwart activist team.

Like most good ideas, it's really very simple. Councillor Whitby explains: "It's an expansion of our already successful Food Bank project, where we've had local stalls collecting food for the needy, then redistributing it to families and pensioners in the area who need help.

"We've found that a lot of people don't like to admit that they need help, so by renaming the Foodbank operation as the SANTA Project and giving out hampers at Christmas time, we idea," says Nick Griffin. "I'm giving £150 straight away from my English Fair Fund, and will add to that once the Project gets more than 50 hampers. As I put 10% of my salary each month into the Fund, there's more available to help other Branches who do something similar too."

the 'elite', it is essential that communities rediscover the traditions of self-help and co-operation that were central to the patriotic socialism of the early Labour Party.

"The British National Party is the heir to those traditions. Let's get busy bringing them back to life!"

You're still the best

...and the British National Party wants you.

The British Veterans' Group welcomes veterans and serving personnel of all Britain's armed services, including the Territorial Army.

Because you've proved yourself, we'd like to hear from you.

BVG – the pride of the BNP.

Please return to:
PO Box 105
Spennymoor
DL16 6BJ
or call 0844 809 4581

FIRST NAME:

SURNAME:

ADDRESS:

POSTCODE:

PHONE:

EMAIL:

*The BVG is a group within the British National Party and is also open to none party members to join. Membership of the BVG does not qualify as membership of the British National Party.

Veterans attend anti-Islamisation demo

On Saturday 25th May 2013, British Veterans' Group (BVG) Officer, Pete

Molloy, attended an anti-Islamification demo in Newcastle upon Tyne that had been organised by the English Defence League.

Amongst the several thousand anti-Islamification protesters were many British military veterans, including a fellow veteran of Pete's former regiment, The King's Regiment, as well as parents of serving armed forces personnel.

One of the parents had lost her son in Afghanistan while he was serving with the Royal Corps of Signals. She felt she had to be there for him because of the brutal murder of Drummer Lee Rigby in Woolwich at the hands of British-born African Islamists.

Explaining why the BVG were at the demonstration, Pete said: "The brutal murder of one of our soldiers at the hands of

Pete Molloy with a supporter of British troops at the Newcastle demo

Islamists made it important to attended and show solidarity for a comrade and to denounce the Islamification of Britain, which all Islamists want, and we British people don't.

"It was the first anti-Islamification demonstration that a couple of parents had been to. They didn't know what to expect, so Mick and I took them under our wing and made sure they were all right.

"We all need to make a stand against the enemies of our people and country, so it is important that all Nationalist groups put aside their differences and work together."

Following the horrific murder of a young British soldier, you would think that people would respect veterans and military families, but the trade unions and local Muslim councillors showed their anti-British stance once again by turning up to protest against them.

West Lindsey BNP tribute to martyr Rigby

West Lindsey BNP laid a wreath to British martyr, Lee Rigby, in the war against the Islamist terror

Residents and BNP supporters in West Lindsey gave their tribute to British martyr

Drummer Lee Rigby.

Moreover, shock and disbelief was even more evident when the former home of radicalised Muslim Michael Adebolajo was raided by police with regard to the Muslim Terror Investigation in the sedate village of Savilly in West Lindsey.

Adebolajo resided here, should be highlighted as a reminder to us all as to the dangers we face.

In the town of Caistor flowers were placed alongside other display tributes and a team of activists peacefully distributed a selection of Party leaflets in the villages, including 500 EU Referendum colour flyers which produced the most favourable responses in over a year.

West Lindsey Organiser Robert Ashton passed on his thanks to East Midlands Regional Organiser

Where we stand

It doesn't matter if you don't agree with us on every last policy. Like all the other democratic political parties, the British National Party includes members who disagree with one or two policies.

European Union

Leave the European Union to restore Britain's Sovereignty. Trade with Europe where it benefits Britain, but retake our freedom and Keep the Pound. Scrap the Human Rights Act which is a criminals' charter.

Stop mass immigration

Britain is full up, it's time to shut the doors! No more foreign-funded mosques. Deport foreign criminals and Islamic extremists. It's our Britain – they should love it, or leave it!

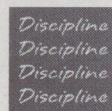

Defence

Immediate withdrawal of troops from Afghanistan to save lives and £Billions. Halt the merging of our Armed Forces into an EU super force. No British involvement in foreign wars that are none of Britain's business.

Safe Streets

Crack-down on crime with more police on the streets and zero tolerance for

Education

Return to traditional teaching methods, with discipline and the '3Rs.' Restore social mobility by bringing back grammar schools. Cut university places in half and provide free places to bright youngsters whatever their background.

Pensions Fair Deal

Boost pensions and stop the scandal of forcing elderly folk who've paid in all their lives to sell their homes to pay for health care. The £Billions wasted on foreign aid should be used at home to help our own needy.

Environment

Protect our countryside. Ban greenfield-site house building except in cases of genuine local need. End field trials of GM crops and restore our 200 mile fishing limit. No more wind factories.

Government & Community

Government must put British interests

West Lindsey BNP laid a wreath to British martyr, Lee Rigby, in the war against the Islamist terror

Residents and BNP supporters in West Lindsey gave their tribute to British martyr

Drummer Lee Rigby.

Moreover, shock and disbelief was even more evident when the former home of radicalised Muslim Michael Adebolajo was raided by police with regard to the Muslim Terror Investigation in the sedate village of Saxilby in West Lindsey.

The West Lindsey Group covers a large area of rural Lincolnshire and the beautiful Lincolnshire Wolds where last week 2 of our valued members laid flowers to show our respect and to offer our condolences, joining many others who feel strongly that the radicalisation, which apparently began in the county when Michael

Adebolajo resided here, should be highlighted as a reminder to us all as to the dangers we face.

In the town of Caistor flowers were placed alongside other display tributes and a team of activists peacefully distributed a selection of Party leaflets in the villages, including 500

EU Referendum colour flyers which produced the most favourable responses in over a year.

West Lindsey Organiser Robert Ashton passed on his thanks to East

Midlands Regional Organiser Geof Dickens, who days earlier had delivered by hand from Nuneaton over 1500 EU Referendum leaflets to the Group on a free of charge basis.

Additionally the Group are endeavouring to expand into the vibrant town of Gainsborough in West Lindsey in preparation for the 2014 European Elections.

European Union

Leave the European Union to restore Britain's Sovereignty. Trade with Europe where it benefits Britain, but retake our freedom and Keep the Pound. Scrap the Human Rights Act which is a criminals' charter.

Stop mass immigration

Britain is full up, it's time to shut the doors! No more foreign-funded mosques. Deport foreign criminals and Islamic extremists.

It's our Britain – they should love it, or leave it!

Defence

Immediate withdrawal of troops from Afghanistan to save lives and £Billions. Halt the merging of our Armed Forces into an EU super force. No British involvement in foreign wars that are none of Britain's business.

Safe Streets

Crack-down on crime with more police on the streets and zero tolerance for drug-dealers and violent thugs.

Tougher treatment of criminals with capital punishment for child killers and terrorists.

Industry & Jobs

Protect British jobs and industry from unfair foreign import dumping. Fund proper apprenticeships and investment in energy production rather than bailing out corrupt and failed banks.

Health

Protect the National Health Service from the Tories' privatisation rip-off. Cut bureaucracy, not nurses' jobs and hospitals. Leave GPs to see patients, not manage budget sheets.

Education

Return to traditional teaching methods, with discipline and the '3Rs.' Restore social mobility by bringing back grammar schools. Cut university places in half and provide free places to bright youngsters whatever their background.

Pensions Fair Deal

Boost pensions and stop the scandal of forcing elderly folk who've paid in all their lives to sell their homes to pay for health care. The £Billions wasted on foreign aid should be used at home to help our own needy.

Environment

Protect our countryside. Ban greenfield-site house building except in cases of genuine local need. End field trials of GM crops and restore our 200 mile fishing limit. No more wind factories.

Government & Community

Government must put British interests first. A return to moral values and policies that strengthen the family and community. Tougher penalties for corruption in public life.

Christian Culture

Our Christian heritage is the cornerstone of our culture and freedom. Protect it from creeping Islamisation and far-left political correctness.

Identity

Our national identity is under relentless attack from mass immigration, multi-culturalism, health 'n' safety killjoys

and globalisation. We're proud of who we are – and we're here to make Britain even better!

Watch uncensored, honest, real news

Keep up to

British martyr Drummer Lee Rigby.

Moreover, shock and disbelief was even more evident when the former home of radicalised Muslim Michael Adebolajo was raided by police with regard to the Muslim Terror Investigation in the sedate village of Saxilby in West Lindsey.

The West Lindsey Group covers a large area of rural Lincolnshire and the beautiful Lincolnshire Wolds where last week 2 of our valued members laid flowers to show our respect and to offer our condolences, joining many others who feel strongly that the radicalisation, which apparently began in the county when Michael were placed alongside other display tributes and a team of activists peacefully distributed a selection of Party leaflets in the villages, including 500 EU Referendum colour flyers which produced the most favourable responses in over a year.

West Lindsey Organiser Robert Ashton passed on his thanks to East

Midlands Regional Organiser Geof Dickens, who days earlier had delivered by hand from Nuneaton over 1500 EU Referendum leaflets to the Group on a free of charge basis.

Additionally the Group are endeavouring to expand into the vibrant town of Gainsborough in West Lindsey in preparation for the 2014 European Elections.

Watch uncensored, honest, real news

Keep up to date with BNP campaigns, stories and news online at BNPTv – the real alternative to the controlled media

Watch all the latest videos at www.bnptv.org.uk

It's our Britain – they should love it, or leave it!

Defence

No more foreign-funded mosques. Deport foreign criminals and Islamic extremists. Immediate withdrawal of troops from Afghanistan to save lives and £Billions. Halt the merging of our Armed Forces into an EU super force. No British involvement in foreign wars that are none of Britain's business.

Safe Streets

Crack-down on crime with more police on the streets and zero tolerance for drug-dealers and violent thugs. Tougher treatment of criminals with capital punishment for child killers and terrorists.

Industry & Jobs

Protect British jobs and industry from unfair foreign import dumping. Fund proper apprenticeships and investment in energy production rather than bailing out corrupt and failed banks.

Health

Protect the National Health Service from the Tories' privatisation rip-off. Cut bureaucracy, not nurses' jobs and hospitals. Leave GPs to see patients, not manage budget sheets.

of forcing elderly folk who've paid in all their lives to sell their homes to pay for health care. The £Billions wasted on foreign aid should be used at home to help our own needy.

Environment

Protect our countryside. Ban greenfield-site house building except in cases of genuine local need. End field trials of GM crops and restore our 200 mile fishing limit. No more wind factories.

Government & Community

Government must put British interests first. A return to moral values and policies that strengthen the family and community. Tougher penalties for corruption in public life.

Christian Culture

Our Christian heritage is the cornerstone of our culture and freedom. Protect it from creeping Islamisation and far-left political correctness.

Identity

Our national identity is under relentless attack from mass immigration, multi-culturalism, health 'n' safety killjoys and globalisation. We're proud of who we are – and we're here to make Britain even better!

Just ask yourself whether you agree with more of our policies than those of Labour, the Conservatives and the LibDems? Which is what makes us the radical alternative to the corrupt old politicians.

Our website is updated several times a day with news, views, and our winning policies to make Britain better. Visit www.bnp.org.uk

Community care in East London

East London BNP team hold a Foodbank to provide support for hard-up local people

Saturday 15th June saw a number of activists from Essex and London hold a stall and food bank in the Essex borough of Havering.

The experienced activists were not only kept busy with handing out Party literature to shoppers and food to help our

as local people told of the financial difficulties they faced. One lady told us of her anguish as the council are threatening to not only evict her from her home but also take her children into care in the process.

She was given some sound advice on what to do by 'in-the-know' Dagenham organiser Paul Sturdy and told that we would help her as much as we could.

"It appears that people are listening more to us now and seeing Ukip and the Labour Party for what they really are.

"They were lied to and let down over the parking charges by Councillor Barbara Murray and we will remind them of this at the next election."

The activists from Barking & Dagenham, Havering and Help save Britain and make new friends

The British National Party is organised into local branches, groups and contacts across British Isles

Contact us and we'll put you in touch with your nearest branch or group. By getting active in your community you can make a real difference, find new friends and help save Britain.

Call 0844 809 4581 or email enquiries@bnp.org.uk

in East London

East London BNP team hold a Foodbank to provide support for hard-up local people

Saturday 15th June saw a number of activists from Essex and London hold a stall and food bank in the Essex borough of Havering.

The experienced activists were not only kept busy with handing out Party literature to shoppers and food to help our hard up pensioners but also by answering enquiries and questions from local residents.

The desperation was evident

as local people told of the financial difficulties they faced. One lady told us of her anguish as the council are threatening to not only evict her from her home but also take her children into care in the process.

She was given some sound advice on what to do by 'in-the-know' Dagenham organiser Paul Sturdy and told that we would help her as much as we could.

"The day went very well and the food bank has proved a big success," said organiser Mick Braun.

"It appears that people are listening more to us now and seeing Ukip and the Labour Party for what they really are.

"They were lied to and let down over the parking charges by Councillor Barbara Murray and we will remind them of this at the next election."

The activists from Barking & Dagenham, Havering and London are now hoping to expand to include a used children's clothes bank some time in the near future.

Britain and make new friends

The British National Party is organised into local branches, groups and contacts across British Isles

Contact us and we'll put you in touch with your nearest branch or group. By getting active in your community you can make a real difference, find new friends and help save Britain.

Call 0844 809 4581 or email enquiries@bnp.org.uk

BNP – Making Britain better!

Join the REAL nationalists

Gold¹: £98

Family²: £58

Single Waged Adult: £48

Senior Citizen/Student/Unwaged³: £25

East London BNP team hold a Foodbank to provide support for hard-up local people

Saturday 15th June saw a number of activists from Essex and London hold a stall and food bank in the Essex borough of Havering.

The experienced activists were not only kept busy with handing out Party literature to shoppers and food to help our hard up pensioners but also by answering enquiries and questions from local residents.

The desperation was evident

as local people told of the financial difficulties they faced. One lady told us of her anguish as the council are threatening to not only evict her from her home but also take her children into care in the process.

She was given some sound advice on what to do by 'in-the-know' Dagenham organiser Paul Sturdy and told that we would help her as much as we could.

"The day went very well and the food bank has proved a big success," said organiser Mick Braun.

"It appears that people are listening more to us now and seeing Ukip and the Labour Party for what they really are.

"They were lied to and let down over the parking charges by Councillor Barbara Murray and we will remind them of this at the next election."

The activists from Barking & Dagenham, Havering and London are now hoping to expand to include a used children's clothes bank some time in the near future.

branch or group. By getting active in your community you can make a real difference, find new friends and help save Britain.

Call 0844 809 4581 or email enquiries@bnp.org.uk

BNP – Making Britain better!

BRITISH NATIONAL PARTY

Join the REAL nationalists

GLA3

I would like to join the British National Party.

I enclose a cheque/postal order made payable to 'British National Party' or 'British Heritage' for the following 12-month rate of membership (tick as appropriate)

Please return to: The Secretary, PO Box 213, Wigton, Cumbria CA7 7AL

To renew by phone call 0844 809 4581 or online at:

www.bnp.org.uk/membership.html

Gold¹: £98 ☐ Family²: £58 ☐ Single Waged Adult: £48 ☐ Senior Citizen/Student/Unwaged³: £25 ☐

TITLE: Dr ☐ Rev ☐ Mr ☐ Mrs ☐ Miss ☐ Ms ☐

DATE OF BIRTH:

NAME ON CARD:

CARD NUMBER:

START DATE: EXPIRY DATE: ISSUE NO: (Switch and Solo only)

CARD TYPE: Mastercard ☐ Switch ☐ Visa ☐ Solo ☐ 3 DIGIT SECURITY CODE:

BILLING ADDRESS

HOUSE No: POSTCODE: TEL No:

STREET:

TOWN:

EMAIL:

Signature

Please automatically renew my membership annually until further notice ☐

Please send me information about British National Party campaigns ☐

To pay by easy monthly Direct

Debit please call 0844 809 4581

New members join on a two-year probationary basis and on the understanding that they are of good character. ¹ Gold members receive an exclusive annual pin badge acknowledging their extra financial commitment.

² Please give your name and address on this form and names/ages of others in your household on a separate piece of paper. Those eligible include: spouse/partner: youths aged 16-24: elderly parents/in-laws.

³ Please enclose photocopied proof of entitlement for the reduced rate - forms sent in without will be returned.